2. About HEADS

Health Education and Development Society (HEADS) is a non-profit, non-political, and non-governmental organization registered in Pakistan. HEADS was initially registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1860 in August 2013 and later licensed by the Securities and Exchange Commission of Pakistan (SECP) under Section 42 of the Companies Act, 2017 in October 2025. HEADS works across Pakistan in humanitarian response and sustainable development programming.

The organization is governed by a professional Board of Directors (BoDs) and operates under strong institutional policies that ensure transparency, accountability, and efficiency. HEADS is also registered in the Islamic Republic of Afghanistan and maintains an operational presence in Kabul.

HEADS implements community-centered and inclusive programs in collaboration with communities, government entities, donors, and civil society partners, covering education, health, protection, livelihoods, shelter and settlements, community infrastructure, community development, institutional capacity building, research, gender equality, legal counseling, referral mechanisms, social accountability, right to information, and governance. Cross-cutting priorities gender equality, inclusion, resilience, safeguarding, and social mobilization are integrated across all interventions.

6. Governance and Management Structure

In accordance with its Articles of Association (AoA), HEADS has established a robust governance and management structure that promotes strategic leadership, accountability, transparency, participation, and effective decision-making. The governance framework clearly defines the roles and responsibilities of the Board of Directors, the Chief Executive, and management, ensuring sound oversight, regulatory compliance, prudent financial management, and efficient implementation of programmes.

The structure is underpinned by principles of Accountability to Affected People (AAP), safeguarding, transparency, and continuous organizational learning, ensuring that the voices and feedback of communities are integrated into programme planning, implementation, monitoring, and decision-making. This governance framework strengthens institutional effectiveness while ensuring accountability to donors, government authorities, partners, and the communities served by the organization.

Organizational Organogram

6.1. Board of Directors

The Board of Directors is the supreme governing authority responsible for providing strategic leadership, policy direction, fiduciary oversight, and institutional accountability. The Board exercises its powers in accordance with Articles 27- 45 of the Articles of Association.

The Board is entrusted with all powers necessary for the management and oversight of the affairs of the Company.

The Board is responsible for:

- Defining strategic direction
- Approving organizational policies
- Approving annual plans and budgets
- Ensuring legal and regulatory compliance
- Overseeing financial management
- Appointing and supervising the Chief Executive/Executive Director
- Monitoring organizational performance
- Safeguarding organizational assets and reputation

6.2. Internal Audit Committee

The BoD also constitutes an Audit Committee to oversee internal controls, financial management, compliance, risk management, and implementation of audit recommendations, ensuring transparency, accountability, and sound governance.

6.3. Chief Executive Officer (CEO)

The Chief Executive Officer (CEO) is appointed by the Board of Directors under Article 42 of the Articles of Association. The CEO serves as the principal executive officer of HEADS and is responsible for the overall leadership, management, and administration of the organization. Appointed by and reporting directly to the Board of Directors, the Chief Executive ensures the effective implementation of the Board's strategic decisions, policies, and organizational priorities while providing leadership across programmes, operations, finance, human resources, partnerships, compliance, and resource mobilization.

The Chief Executive Officer's key responsibilities include:

- Providing strategic leadership in line with the vision, mission, and policies approved by the Board of Directors.
- Ensuring effective implementation of organizational strategies, programmes, and operational plans.
- Representing HEADS with donors, government authorities, UN agencies, development partners, and other key stakeholders.
- Serving as the authorized signatory for organizational contracts, Memoranda of Understanding (MoUs), bank accounts, and financial transactions in accordance with delegated authority.
- Ensuring compliance with applicable legal, regulatory, governance, and donor requirements.
- Leading organizational performance, risk management, institutional development, and continuous improvement to strengthen the effectiveness and sustainability of HEADS.

The Chief Executive is supported by a multidisciplinary management team comprising the following functional units, each entrusted with defined responsibilities to ensure efficient programme implementation, operational management, compliance, and organizational performance.

6.4. Programme Development & Management Unit:

- Lead programme design, concept development, and proposal writing in alignment with donor priorities and organizational strategy.
- Coordinate programme planning, budgeting, and resource allocation.
- Provide technical guidance to programme and project teams during implementation.
- Ensure quality standards, cross-sectoral integration, and innovation in programme design.
- Support donor reporting and ensure timely submission of programme documentation.
- Provide support in the development and review of the organization's Strategic Plan, Annual Reports, and organizational profile.

6.5 Project Management Unit

- Ensure effective and timely implementation of projects in line with approved work plans and budgets.
- Provide supervision and strategic guidance to Field Project Managers to ensure effective project operations, coordination, and staff performance.
- Liaise with district authorities, line departments, community structures, and partners.
- Monitor progress, address operational challenges, and ensure corrective actions.
- Ensure field-level compliance with organizational policies and donor requirements.

- Ensure the timely and accurate submission of project progress reports to donors and relevant stakeholders.

- Design and implement MEAL frameworks, tools, and systems across programmes.
- Ensure regular monitoring, data collection, analysis, and reporting on project performance.
- Lead evaluations, assessments, and learning initiatives to improve programme quality.
- Manage feedback, complaints, and accountability mechanisms.
- Promote evidence-based decision-making and learning across the organization.

6.7. Programme Support Unit:

The Programme Support Unit (PSU) comprises the Finance, Administration, Human Resources, Logistics, and Procurement Departments. PSU provides day-to-day operational support to ensure the smooth and efficient implementation of all HEADS projects and operations. It also contributes technical and administrative input to project design, planning, and development to enhance program quality and effectiveness.

The unit is led by the Head of the Programme/Project Support Unit, who is responsible for its overall management, coordination, and performance. In addition, he/she serves as the Chief Operating Officer (COO), providing strategic and operational support to the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) in overseeing the organization's day-to-day operations.

In the absence of the Chief Executive Officer, the Head of the Programme/Project Support Unit will act as the Officer-in-Charge and assume the responsibilities of the Acting Chief Executive Officer.

6.8. Finance & Accounts Unit

- Ensure sound financial management, budgeting, and financial reporting in compliance with donor and statutory requirements.
- Maintain accurate financial records, internal controls, and audit readiness.
- Monitor expenditure against approved budgets and provide financial analysis to management.
- Support external and internal audits and ensure timely resolution of audit observations.

8. Internal Audit Committee

HEADS has established an Internal Audit Committee, appointed by the Board of Directors, to strengthen organizational governance, transparency, and accountability. The Committee functions as an independent and objective oversight mechanism, responsible for reviewing and assessing the effectiveness of internal controls, financial management systems, and compliance with applicable laws, regulations, and requirements. Through periodic audits, compliance reviews, and risk assessments, the Committee identifies gaps, operational risks, and areas for improvement, and provides clear, actionable recommendations to management. It also monitors the implementation and effectiveness of agreed corrective measures to ensure continuous improvement and effective risk mitigation. The Internal Audit Committee promotes ethical standards, sound financial practices, and robust internal controls, thereby enhancing operational efficiency, strengthening institutional integrity, and building confidence among donors, partners, stakeholders, and the communities served by HEADS.

9. Monitoring, Evaluation and Learning (MEAL) System

The Monitoring, Evaluation and Learning (MEAL) system within HEADS serves as a comprehensive framework for assessing, monitoring and enhancing the impact of monitoring programs. It encompasses a range of activities, including the collection and analysis of data, feedback mechanisms and knowledge-sharing initiatives. Through systematic evaluation, the MEAL system enables the HEADS to measure the effectiveness and efficiency of its monitoring interventions, identify areas for improvement and make evidence-based decisions. It also facilitates learning and knowledge exchange among stakeholders, allowing for the adoption of best practices, innovation, and continuous program refinement. By integrating monitoring, evaluation, and learning into its operations, the HEADS enhanced its accountability, demonstrated its impact to donors and beneficiaries and optimized the outcomes of its Program and Projects.

10. Programme Management and Quality Control

Program management and quality control in HEADS are integral components of its operations, which ensure effective implementation and delivery of its initiatives. HEADS's program management covers the strategic planning, coordination and execution of its projects and activities, including resource allocation, timeline management and stakeholder engagement. By employing robust monitoring and evaluation mechanisms, the Organization assess the progress and impact of its programs, identify gaps or areas for improvement, and make informed decisions to enhance their effectiveness. In HEADS, quality control measures, such as adherence to best practices, standards and policies, are crucial in maintaining high standards of service delivery, mitigating risks, and ensuring compliance with relevant regulations. Through efficient program management and rigorous quality control, HEADS optimized its outcomes, maximized its impact and developed trust and credibility among its stakeholders and beneficiaries.

11. Community Liaison

HEADS' Community Liaison acts as a vital link between the organization and local communities by building strong relationships with community members, leaders, and stakeholders. The role ensures effective communication and engagement by understanding community needs, promoting inclusivity, and strengthening trust. This enables HEADS to design and implement programs that are responsive, culturally appropriate, and community owned.

HEADS also facilitates community empowerment by organizing inclusive and democratic community institutions that mobilize resources, resolve issues, and advocate for rights. These institutions operate through a three-tier structure, including Community Organizations, Village Organizations, and Local Support Organizations at the union council level. Through capacity-building trainings, continuous technical support, and a strong network of over 200 community-based organizations for men and women, HEADS ensures meaningful participation, accurate needs assessment, and effective community-led planning and implementation.

12. Cross-Cutting Principles and Safeguards

HEADS integrates Gender Equality and Social Inclusion (GESI), Protection from Sexual Exploitation and Abuse (PSEA), and Programme Participant Safeguarding as cross-cutting priorities across all its interventions. The organization is committed to accountability and transparency through accessible Feedback and Complaint Response Mechanisms (FCRM), ensuring that community members can safely share feedback, raise concerns, and report misconduct without fear of retaliation. HEADS promotes dignity, inclusion, and meaningful participation of women, children, persons with disabilities, and other marginalized groups, while ensuring strong safeguarding standards, ethical conduct, and community trust in all programs.

13. HEADS SECTOR WISE EXPERIENCE

HEADS works across multiple sectors using a dual programming approach. In humanitarian emergencies, the organization adopts an integrated response to address the immediate and diverse needs of affected communities, while in development contexts it focuses on targeted, sector-specific interventions. HEADS is currently implementing humanitarian assistance for flood-affected populations in Khyber Pakhtunkhwa, Pakistan, and is also managing a health facility in District Nowshera under a Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) program funded by Cherat Cement Factory.

The organization's integrated humanitarian response covers Food Security and Livelihoods, Health, WASH, Protection, and restoration of social services. In Afghanistan, HEADS coordinates with government departments, humanitarian partners, and sector working groups to support multi-sectoral interventions.

Sector-wise details of activities in Pakistan are outlined below.

13.1. HEALTH:

The interventions of HEADS focus on Primary Health Care (PHC) services, aimed at delivering the Minimum Initial Service Package (MISP) for Sexual & Reproductive Health, with a focus on preventing excess maternal and neonatal morbidities and mortalities. 13.6. Shelter/NFIs and settlement

To provide appropriate shelter to the families affected by disaster, HEADS maintains regular coordination with authorities and humanitarian actors. HEADS has deployed a multidisciplinary team, including shelter experts, sub-engineers, and social mobilizers, to conduct a needs assessment survey for shelter provision in recently flooded areas. It is further coordinated with humanitarian partners for collaboration.

Priorities of HEADS to contribute in Shelter Cluster activities:

- Rapid Response: HEADS has the technical team and is strengthening coordination to secure funds to swiftly respond to emergencies, by providing immediate shelter solutions to displaced populations, including emergency tents, temporary shelters, and basic household items.
- Coordination: HEADS actively collaborate with government agencies, international organizations, and local communities to ensure a coordinated and effective response, minimizing duplication of efforts and maximizing the reach of shelter assistance.
- Community Engagement: HEADS prioritize community participation, involving affected populations in decision-making processes, and empowering them to take an active role in the construction and maintenance of shelters, fostering a sense of ownership and dignity.
- Capacity Building: HEADS imports training programs to build the capacity of local communities, promoting skills development in shelter construction, maintenance, and disaster risk reduction, enabling communities to better respond to future emergencies.
- Protection and Vulnerable Groups: HEADS prioritize the needs and safety of vulnerable groups, such as women, children, and the elderly, by incorporating protection measures into shelter design and providing specialized support services.
- Sustainable Solutions: HEADS focus on providing sustainable shelter solutions, aiming for long-term recovery and reconstruction, including the use of resilient materials, supporting livelihood opportunities, and facilitating the transition from emergency shelters to permanent housing.

13.7. Climate Resilient Preparedness & Capacity Building:

HEADS is deeply committed to advancing Climate Resilient Preparedness & Capacity Building. Understanding the critical intersection between climate change and public health, HEADS recognizes the pressing need to strengthen the resilience of communities in these regions. By prioritizing capacity building initiatives, HEADS aims to empower local populations with the knowledge, skills, and resources necessary to adapt to climate-related challenges. Through targeted health education programs, disaster preparedness training, and infrastructure development projects, HEADS works to enhance the adaptive capacity of vulnerable communities, ensuring they are better equipped to withstand and recover from the impacts of extreme weather events, water scarcity, and other climate-related hazards. Moreover, by fostering partnerships with governmental agencies, NGOs, and international organizations, HEADS seeks to promote collaborative efforts in building climate resilience, ultimately contributing to sustainable development and improved public health outcomes. Besides this, HEADS has an active disaster situation monitoring and reporting mechanism. During the recent floods, HEADS teams monitored the flood situation in districts Tank, Dera Ismail Khan, Charsadda, Peshawar, and Chitral districts of KP.

Following are the achievements of HEADS in Climate Resilient Preparedness & Capacity Building:

Currently, the HEADS in collaboration with the Pakistan Poverty Alleviation Fund (PPAF) is carrying out these activities in the disaster risk high prone district Chitral Upper of KP:

- Climate Change and adaptation resource persons (CRPs): 10.
